

Activity: People Change

People grow and change throughout their lives, based upon how they respond to other people and events. Choose a major event in the life of the person you studied. Describe this person's character development before and after this event.

Now, think reflectively and creatively for a moment. Imagine yourself in a similar situation as just described. How would YOU grow and change through the experience?